1. Defined fees

The following fees have the meanings given to them in the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth).

Activity fee

A fee is an activity fee if:

- 1) the fee relates to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity that are directly related to an activity of the trustee:
 - a) that is engaged in at the request, or with the consent, of a member; or
 - b) that relates to a member and is required by law; and
- 2) those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an exit fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

Administration fee

An administration fee is a fee that relates to the administration or operation of the superannuation entity and includes costs that relate to that administration or operation, other than:

- 1) borrowing costs; and
- 2) indirect costs that are not paid out of the superannuation entity that the trustee has elected in writing will be treated as indirect costs and not fees incurred by the trustee of the entity or in an interposed vehicle or derivative financial product; and
- 3) costs that are otherwise charged as an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an exit fee, an activity fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

Advice fee

A fee is an advice fee if:

- 1) The fee relates directly to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity because of the provision of financial product advice to a member by:
 - a) a trustee of the entity; or
 - b) another person acting as an employee of, or under an arrangement with, the trustee of the entity; and
- 2) those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a switching fee, an exit fee, an activity fee or an insurance fee.

Buy-sell spread

A buy-sell spread is a fee to recover transaction costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity in relation to the sale and purchase of assets of the entity.

Exit fee

An exit fee is a fee to recover the costs of disposing of all or part of members' interests in the superannuation entity.

Indirect cost ratio

The indirect cost ratio (ICR), for a MySuper product or an investment option offered by a superannuation entity, is the ratio of the total of the indirect costs for the MySuper product or investment option, to the total average net assets of the superannuation entity attributed to the MySuper product or investment option.

Note: A fee deducted from a member's account or paid out of the superannuation entity is not an indirect cost.

Investment fee

An investment fee is a fee that relates to the investment of the assets of a superannuation entity and includes:

- 1) fees in payment for the exercise of care and expertise in the investment of those assets (including performance fees); and

- 2) costs that relate to the investment of assets of the entity, other than:
 - a) Borrowing costs; and
 - b) indirect costs that are not paid out of the superannuation entity that the trustee has elected in writing will be treated as indirect costs and not fees, incurred by the trustee of the entity or in an interposed vehicle or derivative financial product; and
 - c) costs that are otherwise charged as an administration fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an exit fee, an activity fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

Switching fee

In the case of a MySuper product:

A switching fee for a MySuper product is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in a superannuation entity from one class of beneficial interest in the entity to another.

In the case of a superannuation product that is not a MySuper product:

A switching fee for a superannuation product other than a MySuper product, is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in a superannuation entity from one investment option or product in the entity to another.

Consumer Advisory Warning

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees.¹ Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneySMART.gov.au) has a superannuation fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This section shows the fees and other costs you may be charged. The fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the fund's assets as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you. Insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in the Insurance Guide. All fees disclosed in this Additional Information Guide are GST inclusive.

You should read all the information about fees and costs as it is important to understand their impact on your investments and your particular investment option.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Performance fees (managed investments)

Performance fees are paid to certain underlying Fund Managers when they exceed specific investment performance targets. Applicable benchmarks vary between external investment managers. Performance fee triggers vary between investment managers (i.e. payable quarterly, half-yearly and yearly) but generally returns have to be positive for both the Fund Managers and benchmark, and the value of the investment has to be higher than when performance fees were last triggered. Where the requirement to pay a performance fee is triggered, performance fees will be reflected through the unit price issued.

As it is not possible to calculate performance fees in advance, it is not possible to disclose estimated amounts payable, and therefore performance fees have not been allowed for in our calculation of management fees.

Expense Reserve (ER)

The Trustee maintains an Expense Reserve (ER) for costs not related to the administration of the fund.

Custodian fees

The custody agreement between the Trustee and the Custodian provides for the Custodian to hold the property and title documents of the Fund in safe custody. The Custodian is entitled to be paid fees for performing Custodial Services.

The Custodian fee has been included in the administration fee disclosed for each investment option.

Adviser services fees

You may agree to pay an adviser service fee for Whole Pension or Whole Super services provided to you. This adviser service fee may be deducted from your account, with your consent. The adviser service fee is limited to an initial or transactional fee of up to $5,500 per advice event and/or an ongoing service fee of up to 5.50% of your account balance, and will appear in your Statement of Advice provided to you by your financial adviser.

Ongoing fees may be negotiated with your financial adviser as a fixed dollar amount, subject to the above maximums.

Underlying investment fees and costs

Other fees and costs may apply to the underlying investments of the Managed Funds options. Those fees and costs are not included in this Guide, however further details can be obtained from the relevant disclosure documents which are available at www.superprophets.com.au. Underlying investment fees and costs might also apply to certain listed securities such as Exchange Traded Funds, or Listed Investment Companies. See their relevant disclosure documents for further details.

Netting of managed fund transactions

If the provider effects a managed fund transaction without buying or selling the relevant asset (for example, by netting transactions of different investors) the provider is entitled to retain as a fee the amount of any fee that would otherwise have been payable. You will be charged the relevant fee(s) for the transaction as if the transaction had taken place without netting.

Brokerage

Brokerage fees cover buying and selling investments in your Managed Account Portfolio and ASX Listed Securities and may include government taxes.

The provider implements all transactions on your behalf and earn brokerage rebates on some transactions the provider directly implements. These rebates may vary up to 0.275% (including GST) of the value of each securities transaction, they may be received by way of non-cash services and are not returned to members.

In addition, buying and selling of International Listed Securities within Managed Account Portfolios will incur recovery of expenses stated in the 'Global Market Fees' schedule available at www.superprophets.com.au as updated from time to time. These amounts differ between international exchanges and will be deducted from your account at the time of the trade settlement.

In some cases, the transactions required to produce the required Managed Account Portfolio's structure will be too small to take to market (in many cases, brokers do not want to deal in parcels with a value below $2,000). If this occurs, the provider may transfer securities to or from holdings held in the provider's own account known as 'netted' securities. When this occurs, a netting fee will be charged and this will be 0.22% of the value of each security transaction. In some cases this may result in a benefit to the provider.

Other transactional and operational costs

Other transactional and operational costs are payable from your managed account portfolios and vary from year to year. They are brokerage and costs associated with investment manager directed rebalancing set out below.

Brokerage / Transaction fee

Managed Account Portfolios	Up to 0.33% (0.22% for netting) per trade for Managed Account Portfolios.
----------------------------	---

For the last complete financial year, brokerage costs were 0.28% of the net asset value of the Fund. Based on the $50,000 fees and costs example, $47,500 invested in the managed account portfolio, this would add $133 to the annual cost of your investment.

Insurance fees

If you elect insurance cover, Whole Super will charge you an administration fee of $99 per annum to cover the expenses of administering insurance through Whole Super. This fee is in addition to your premium.

Refer to section 8 of the Whole Super PDS.

Fee changes

The level of fees and costs can change from time to time. The Trustee may introduce new fees or change existing fees at any time. The Trustee will notify you at least 30 days before we introduce new fees or increase existing fees.

Fees for optional services

Fees for optional services

Type of fee	Amount	How and when paid
Family Law Enquiry	$99	After each request, fees will be deducted from your Cash Hub at the end of the month
Family Law Split	$99
In Specie Transfer fee	$99
Brokerage	0.12% of the transaction value (subject to a minimum of $19.95 per trade).

Explanation of fees for optional services

Family Law Enquiry	Pursuant to family law, your spouse, a person considering entering into a superannuation agreement with you, or their authorised representative, can request information about your account.
Family Law Split	This applies to splitting the interest in your account upon receipt of a splitting agreement or Family Court order.
In Specie Transfer fee	This is a fee charged for in specie transfers of underlying assets between accumulation phase and pension.
Brokerage	This is a fee charged for buying and selling Managed Account Portfolio investments and may include government taxes, bank charges and stamp duty (if any).

3. Receiving your pension

How much can you receive?

The minimum amount you are required to draw from your account each year is known as your minimum income limit. Your minimum income limit depends on your account balance and age on 1 July of each year.

A maximum income limit of 10% of your account balance applies to Transition to Retirement Pensions. After 1 July each year the Trustee will write to you advising you of your new limits.

Minimum income limit

Your Age at 1 July ¹	% of account balance 1 July and beyond
Under 65	4
65 – 74	5
75 – 79	6
80 – 84	7
85 – 89	9
90 – 94	11
95 +	14

Case studies

Peter is aged 68, fully retired and has a pension account balance of $200,000. He would like to start an Account Based Pension on 1 July 2017. Peter would calculate his minimum income limit as follows: $200,000 x 5.00% = $10,000. No maximum income limit applies as Peter's account is not a Transition to Retirement Pension account.

Julia is aged 62, working part time and has a Transition to Retirement Pension account balance of $300,000. Julia would calculate her minimum income limit as follows: $300,000 x 4.00% = $12,000 and her maximum income limit as follows: $300,000 x 10% = $30,000. As Julia wants to start the Transition to Retirement Pension on 1 January 2017, the minimum would be $6,000 and the maximum is $30,000.

This section provides a summary of the income requirements imposed on account-based pensions. Super laws and income requirements are subject to change, and you should visit www.ato.gov.au to confirm the most up to date account-based pension income requirements.

Death benefit nominations

Reversionary pension

Your death benefit can be paid to a dependant as a pension if you die after commencing your pension. This is called a reversionary pension and the recipient is known as your reversionary beneficiary.

You may only nominate one of the dependants for tax purposes as your reversionary beneficiary.

When can I nominate a reversionary beneficiary?

You may only nominate a reversionary beneficiary when you first open your account. In the application form we ask if you want to nominate a reversionary beneficiary - you cannot make a reversionary beneficiary nomination later.

Can I change a reversionary beneficiary nomination?

You cannot change a reversionary beneficiary nomination, however if you make a new binding or non-binding nomination, your reversionary beneficiary nomination will become invalid.

Are there other circumstances when a reversionary beneficiary nomination may become invalid?

At the time of your death, the Trustee will decide whether a reversionary beneficiary nomination is still valid. Your nomination will become invalid if you divorce, if your reversionary beneficiary dies before you or if your beneficiary is a child over 18 who is no longer deemed to be financially dependent on you.

Lump sum payments

Lump sum payments may be paid to beneficiaries whether they are dependant(s) or legal personal representatives.

If a beneficiary is not a dependant for tax purposes, benefit payments may be subject to tax (see 'Tax on death benefits' in the Pension PDS for more details). Children over 18 are generally not dependants for tax purposes unless they are disabled or aged between 18 and 25 and financially dependent.

How to nominate a beneficiary

When nominating a beneficiary you can choose to make either a non-binding death benefit nomination, or a binding death benefit nomination.

Non-binding death benefit nomination

Your non-binding death benefit nomination serves as a guide to us as to your wishes regarding the payment of your death benefit. It is not binding on the Trustee; however we will take your wishes into consideration when making the decision as to whom your death benefit is paid. The Trustee will make a decision based on the circumstances of your nominated beneficiary or other claimants at the time of your death, as these may have changed since you completed your nomination.

Binding death benefit nomination

Binding death benefit nominations provide greater certainty as to who benefits from your pension following your death. There are advantages and disadvantages when choosing a binding death benefit nomination, so we recommend that you seek professional advice before taking up this option.

To make a valid binding nomination:

- you must nominate one or more dependants (as defined) and/or your legal personal representative;
- your allocation percentages must total 100%, otherwise your nomination will be invalid;
- your nomination must be in writing;
- your nomination must be signed and dated, in the presence of two witnesses, being persons:
 - both of whom have turned 18 years of age, and
 - neither of whom is mentioned in the nomination; and
- your nomination must contain a declaration signed and dated by the witnesses stating that the nomination was signed by you in their presence.

The Nomination of Beneficiary form is available on the Fund's website or upon request.

Note: Binding nominations have a fixed term of three years and override any nomination you have made previously. We are required to follow a valid binding death nomination even if your circumstances changed between the date of the binding nomination and the time of your death. You must confirm or amend your binding nomination at least every three years in order for it to be valid. If you do not renew your binding nomination before the expiry date, your nomination will revert to a non-binding nomination. You may revoke your binding nomination at any time.

4. How to transact in your account

Transferring in multiple super accounts

You may want to include benefits from a number of super funds into Whole Super or Whole Pension. To do this for Whole Pension, all benefits must first be consolidated into a single super fund (for example a Whole Super account) prior to establishing your Whole Pension account. The fund will be invested in the investment options you choose.

The Trustee will ask you to provide proof of identification.

Before you transfer any funds from your other super accounts to Whole Super, you should consider:

- Possible exit fees
- Any loss of benefits, particularly insurance
- Additional costs
- Investment performance
- Tax
- Estate planning
- Whether you should seek professional advice

What proof of identification do you need?

The Trustee maintains high standards of security for the protection of our members including ensuring that we appropriately verify your identity.

When you apply to open a Whole Pension account we require you to provide certified identification documents.

Generally, providing us with a certified copy of your current Australian driver's licence or your current passport is the most straightforward way to confirm your identity. If you don't have either of these documents or you are unsure what we mean by a certified copy, contact us.

Keeping track of your super and pension account

You can do the following online via 'Super Prophets Implement':

- View your account balance
- Update your details (including contact and banking details)
- Review and make changes to your investment options
- Check your transaction history
- Vary your pension payment

Additionally, product updates and personalised communications will be published to you online. This will include such items as:

- Your annual statement
- Your annual pension payment schedule
- Rollover payment confirmation advice
- Annual reports
- Any other form or piece of information upon your request

Appointing a Nominated Representative

Your adviser is integral to the operation of your portfolio of investments, assets and liabilities held in your account. You must have and maintain an adviser to use the product.

Your adviser (or their staff) is your primary point of contact and any queries that you have concerning your investments or your portfolio should be directed to them in the first instance.

Appointing your adviser as Nominated Representative allows them to provide instructions to us on your behalf including transacting at www.superprophets.com.au.

To operate your account, you must nominate your adviser to access and operate your account on your behalf.

We refer to the people who you nominate as your Nominated Representatives.

To give your authority to a Nominated Representative you need to read the "Nominated Representative Terms and Conditions" section of this Guide and complete the relevant section of the Application Form.

Your Nominated Representative is able to exercise all of the rights you grant them (except the right to transfer the authorisation to another person) to operate the products and services in your account on your behalf, including to:

- Provide instructions relating to your account
- Execute investment decisions at www.superprophets.com.au
- Access your personal information online
- Make enquiries regarding your investments, and
- If you have so authorised them using a direct debit request form, instruct us to make additional investments on your behalf and debit your nominated bank account.

5. Other things to consider

Will your pension account affect your social security pension?

The balance of your pension account is included in the social security Assets Test and the deemed income from your pension is also included in the social security Age Pension Income Test.

Superannuation Contributions Splitting

Superannuation fund members can split contributions made to their fund to their spouse's superannuation account. The spouse's account does not have to be with the Fund.

Only taxed superannuation contributions may be split, i.e. personal contributions on which you have claimed a deduction or employer contributions.

The application to split must be made either:

- in the following financial year (i.e. the application must be made between 1 July and 30 June in the financial year following the year in which the contributions were made), or
- during the financial year if the entire benefit is to be rolled over or transferred before the end of that financial year.

The maximum splittable amount for any financial year is 85% of taxed splittable contributions. Since taxable contributions are included in the assessable income of a superannuation fund, the 85% limit on taxed splittable contributions is a simple means of ensuring members cannot split more than the amount remaining in their account which relates to those taxed splittable contributions.

For income tax purposes, amounts split to a spouse's account are treated as a contributions-splitting eligible termination payment (ETP) and are taken to have been rolled over to the spouse's account. The eligible service period (ESP) of the contributions-splitting ETP is always zero. The applicant's ESP in respect of the contributions-splitting ETP does not transfer to the receiving spouse.

Family law

Family law is a complex issue. In this section we outline how your pension could be affected after a relationship breakdown. In the event of a relationship deterioration it is recommended you seek legal advice about any effect it may have on your super.

Super or pension benefits of married or de facto couples who are separated or divorced can be divided either by agreement or by court order. This allows part, or all of a super or pension benefit to be transferred from one spouse to the other.

The Trustee is required to make any payment from your pension account in accordance with a super agreement or court order. There may be tax consequences as a result of splitting a super benefit and you should seek advice from your tax adviser.

Your account can also be flagged either by agreement or court order, preventing us from making most types of payments from the account. The Trustee is required, if requested under these provisions, to provide information regarding your account to your spouse or partner and must not advise you that we have done so.

The Trustee may charge fees for family law enquiries and family law account splitting.

How to apply for information: The Family Court of Australia publishes a "Super Information Kit" containing the paperwork you need to apply for information about your spouse or partner's super or pension fund. The kit can be downloaded at www.familycourt.gov.au.

The Fund's Trust Deed

The governing rules of the Fund are set out in the MAP Master Super Plan Trust Deed. The Trustee's Board has some powers to alter the Trust Deed. The Trustee will inform you if the Trustee believes that a change to the Trust Deed would affect members of the Fund.

This product is one of the products offered through the MAP Superannuation Plan, Division II created by this deed.

You can request a copy of the MAP Master Super Plan Trust Deed at no cost.

What are your rights under the Trust Deed?

The Trust Deed sets out your rights, which include:

- the circumstances in which you are entitled to benefits,
- how and when benefits may be paid to you,
- the nature of the investment units, and
- how the Trustee must calculate unit prices, and what you are entitled to receive when you withdraw or if the Fund is wound up.

There are also provisions governing powers and duties as Trustee:

- the power to invest, borrow and generally manage the Fund,
- the discretion to refuse transfers and applications,
- the ability to terminate the Fund after giving you notice. Where the Trustee decides to terminate the Fund, the Trustee will distribute the net proceeds (upon sale of investments after costs) on a pro rata basis to participants of the Fund,
- the ability to retire as trustee if the Trustee has arranged for another appropriate trustee to be appointed in place, and
- the power to charge fees and recover expenses.

The administration of Whole Super and Whole Pension (including investments and benefit payments) must always comply with superannuation law, which can change.

Reserves

The Trustee maintains reserves in the Fund for the benefit of members. Reserves are held to meet licence conditions, facilitate administration efficiency and are invested to the benefit of members.

If you, or anyone else on your behalf, makes a claim for a benefit, the insurer may give or receive information about you to or from medical practitioners, legal advisers, health service providers, past or present employers, other consultants, experts and companies in order to assess and process the claim.

With your written consent, we will disclose information about your investment in the Fund to your accountant, financial adviser or others you have nominated. Personal information may also be disclosed to the Australian Taxation Office or other government authorities or agencies as required by law.

You can find out how to access the information we hold about you, and how to ask us to correct any incorrect information, in our Privacy Policy at www.superprophets.com.au.
